ARCHBISHOP TUTU LEADERSHIP PROGRAMME African Leadership Institute

Description:

The African Leadership Institute invites applications for the Archbishop Tutu fellowship. Grants aim is to introduce young achievers who are likely to become leaders to key principles, requirements and challenges of leadership and to provide a platform for them across the African continent. This five month part-time programme is run in partnership with Oxford University and African institutions. The programme combines theory and case studies with experiential learning, mentoring and tutoring, practical application and experience, and peer interaction and review. The focus is African leadership in a global context. The programme involves two nine-day workshops. The first workshop will be held in South Africa held from 24 April to 1 May 2010, while the second workshop will be held at Oxford University and in London at the beginning of September. The candidate's costs of travel, accommodation and tuition at the workshops will be covered.

Candidates must be aged between 25 and 39 and be currently living in Africa, temporarily placed abroad by their employer or completing further education abroad. They should be committed to living in Africa and to actively contributing to its long term success. Only nominated candidates will be considered for admission.

SESYNC THEME - WATER, PEOPLE AND ECOSYSTEMS

National Socio-Environmental Synthesis Center

Description:

The National Socio-Environmental Synthesis centre invites applications for pursuits under the theme water, people and ecosystems. SESYNC seeks proposals for activities focused on the integration of data and the development of models to enhance understanding of the relationship between the spatial and temporal variability of water, ecological systems, and human welfare and behaviour. This solicitation specifically focuses on the implications for policy and practice. The goal is to increase understanding of how to balance the water needs of ecosystems and society if water availability is uncertain.

Participation by international researchers is encouraged. Research teams or individual researchers may apply.

SESYNC pursuits are designed to facilitate face-to-face engagement of researchers at the centre in Annapolis. Pursuits generally last one to two years and involve two to four meetings of approximately five days. Funding provides:

- travel funds, accommodations and meals for project collaborators to work onsite at SESYNC in Annapolis, MD;
- facilities for meeting, including technological support;
- computational support for data acquisition and synthesis;
- the opportunity to engage with postdoctoral scholars and sabbatical fellows at both SESYNC headquarters or at the centre's research affiliates.

VISITOR PROGRAMME

Isaac Newton Institute for Mathematical Sciences

Description:

The Isaac Newton Institute for Mathematical Sciences invites proposals for its visitor programme. This aims to bring together mathematical scientists from UK universities and leading experts from overseas for research on specialised topics in all branches of the mathematical sciences from pure mathematics, applied mathematics and statistics to theoretical aspects of any discipline. At any time there are two visitor programmes in progress, each with about 30 scientists in residence. Included within these programmes are periods of particularly intense activity including instructional courses and workshops. The programmes are for periods of four weeks, four months or six months.

VISITING SCHOLARSHIP

European Society for Paediatric Endocrinology

Description:

The European Society for Paediatric Endocrinology invites nominations for its visiting scholarships. These enable ESPE members or their collaborators to gather information and experience on a specific research issue or on a laboratory technique in the field of paediatric endocrinology. Four scholarships, worth €2,500 each, are available. The scholarship covers travel and housing expenses only. It excludes research materials or costs and personal living expenses. Grants may also be used to finance a short-term visit, lasting for up to six weeks, to an external research institution, or a visit of an outside expert in order to receive essential guidance, consultation or advice at the requester's home institute. Non-members may apply, but ESPE members will be given priority.

NETWORK FOR AFRICAN URBAN SOCIAL STUDIES

Foundation for Urban and Regional Studies

Description:

The Foundation for Urban and Regional Studies invites applications for its network for African urban social studies. This aims to fund networks of scholars to share and develop collaborative research on urban sociology in Africa, and to organise seminars, round tables and other scholarly activities. The foundation further wishes to support initiatives to encourage high-quality applications from young African scholars for PhD studentships and research grants.

African nationals under the age of 35 are eligible. Applicants should hold established academic posts in sub-Saharan African universities or research institutes, and should preferably be sociologists based in departments of sociology. The foundation will also consider applications from social anthropologists, political scientists, geographers and those researching in urban studies, provided the main focus of their work deals with sociological issues.

Funding up to £3,000 per application will be considered; in exceptional case this could be higher. Awards will cover travel, subsistence and conference registration fees, and costs of organising and disseminating seminars and roundtables.

Closing date: 31 Jan 13

RESSEARCH GRANTS Society for Medieval Archaeology

Description:

The Society for Medieval Archaeology invites applications for its research grants. The following funds are available to members:

- the Eric Fletcher fund, worth up to £500, available to individual members, preferably at an early stage in their careers, for personal archaeological research, assistance to attend relevant conferences or for study tours;
- the Sudreys fund, worth approximately £500, for travel related to research in the field of Viking studies;
- the medieval archaeology research grant, worth up to £2000, for members wishing to carry out personal research, but excluding excavation costs or academic fees.

The society welcomes applications from graduate students but does not normally fund core elements of doctoral research where the costs could have been foreseen at the start. Applications for the purchase of capital equipment or software, academic fees or the salary of applicants are not eligible.

C O-SPONSORED EVENTS AWARDS American Society for Theatre Research

Description:

The American Society for Theatre Research invites applications for support for co-sponsored events.

ASTR co-sponsored events exist to:

- fulfil ASTR's purpose through collaboration with other organisations and institutions;
- foster closer relationships with cognate organisations or projects;
- increase the visibility of the work of both ASTR and the award recipient within a wider professional context.

Applications may come from individuals, organisations, institutions (or a combination) worldwide. ASTR co-sponsored events receive the endorsement of ASTR; however, ASTR is not able to offer organisational or administrative assistance to awardees. Events of regional, national, or international significance in the format of conferences, colloquia, symposia, summits, etc. will be considered provided that they align with ASTR's purpose, namely, to foster scholarship on theatre and performance, either historical or contemporary, with respect to the US or abroad. Financial support is capped at US$1,500.

SOUTH-SOUTH SUMMER INSTITUTE

Council for the Development of Social Science Research (CODESRIA)

Description:

The Council for the Development of Social Science Research, in partnership with the Asian Political and International Studies Association and the Latin American Council of Social Sciences, invites applications to attend the fifth South-South summer institute. The institute serves as a unique forum for enhancing a deeper understanding among a younger generation of southern scholars of the history, politics, economy and culture of Africa, Asia and Latin America and enables participants to develop long-lasting collaborative relationships with their counterparts from other southern countries. The theme for this year's institute, to be held in Recife, Brazil from 21 May to 1 June 2012, is rethinking development: global and regional alternatives for development in the south. Participants will receive advanced research training on various key issues relevant to the south and the theoretical and methodological perspectives that might be appropriate for gaining a full understanding of the specific situation of the countries and peoples located outside the core of the international system. It is also expected that participants will become acquainted with the local intellectual environment in the regions where different sessions of the institute are hosted and strengthen their comparative research capacities. Younger scholars resident in countries of the south and who are pursuing active academic careers are eligible to apply. Applicants should be university-educated, preferably with a minimum of a master's degree in any of the social sciences and humanities. Applicants should have a demonstrable working knowledge of English. 30 applicants will be selected for participation, 10 each from Africa, Asia and Latin America. Full participation costs will be covered, including economy return air travel, accommodation and subsistence.

G EORGE T HANYO AWARD AVS Science and Technology Society

Description:

The AVS Science and Technology Society invites applications for the George T Hanyo award. The purpose of the award is to recognize outstanding performance in technical support of research or development in areas of interest to AVS.

The award recognizes valuable contributions made by persons outside normal professional circles. Typical nominees should have received mention in the acknowledgments sections of published papers, but, with the possible exception of papers describing new apparatus or procedures, would rarely have been authors or co-authors.

A nominee must have contributed unusual skills and creative scientific or technical ideas in support of at least one major research or development program which influenced areas of interest to AVS. This supporting work must have been provided over a period of at least ten years.

Eligible candidates include those working in equipment design and construction, data analysis, improvements in experimental procedures and other comparable activities. Managerial and administrative personnel are not eligible. The award consists of a cash award and a certificate. Travel expenses of the awardee to the meeting at which the award will be presented may be reimbursed to a maximum of $500.
